Last summer I have read the book "The story about a real man", which was written by the famous Russian writer of 20th century Boris Polevoy. It's a war novel.

I like it because the plot of the story is extremely interesting. The action takes place in Russia during World War II. The story tells us about Alexander Mereshev, whose aircraft crashed. His feet are broken, but he keeps going to the airdrome, in spite of pain.

The book has a lot of thrilling episodes. I couldn't help feeling nervous, especially when he met a bear. Fortunately, he escaped.

To cut a long story short, Mereshev again could fly in spite of amputation.

In conclusion, I would like to say that this book is amazing. So, if you like war novels, I advise you to read it.

A.S. Pushkin. Eugene Oegin

This book is about love and betrayal, life and death. "Eugene Oegin" is a journey to the world of the XIX century, where honour was placed above all else. The novel was written in 1831.

Main characters are: Eugene Oegin (a dandy from Saint Petersburg), Vladimir Lensky (a young poet, Eugene's friend), Tatiana Larina (a provincial beauty) and her younger sister Olga.

Shy and quiet Tatiana fell in love with Eugene, but he rejected her. After this they hadn't seen each other for a couple years. ~~But~~ During the chance meeting, he fell in love with Tatiana, but she was already married. "But I've become another's wife - and I'll be true to him, for life".

I like this novel because it has a practical wisdom - there is a time for everything, and it is a reason, why "Eugene Oegin" is worth reading.

Last summer I read the book "The crime and the punishment" which was written by the famous Russian writer Fedor Dostoevsky. It is a detective story.

I liked this book very much from the very beginning. First of all, Dostoevsky is one of my favorite writers. Besides the plot of the story was extremely interesting and exciting.

The book tells us about a student who thinks that all people are divided into two categories: who has rights and who doesn't have them. There are some thrilling episodes in the book. To my mind, the most impressive one is the scene of killing an old woman by Raskolnikov because of her money.

To cut a long story short, Raskolnikov gets punishment for his crime.

If you like stories about good and evil, I advise you to read this book.

I am going to write about my favorite book I read in tenth grade. The book is written by the well-known Russian writer ^{the} XIX century I.S. Tyurgenev. It is novel. The storyline of the book is incredibly exciting.

The book tells us about a Vdigne Batharov who denies all human feelings, but one day he fallen in love and his life takes another turn. The main characters is Vdigne Batharov, A.N. Kyrzanov, Mary ect. The first problem is incomprehension. Sons can't find common language with their fathers. The second problem is communication. Problem of parents because they don't want to talk with their children. I like "Fathers and Sons" because it is really instructive book.

On whole the storyline of book is amazing. If you like novel type of books, you should read it.
